

HOW YOU CAN BE A SPIRITUAL DAUGHTER OF HONOUR

A one-minute read by Tiny Mathew

Introduction

Having a spiritual covering over your life is such a blessing and protection from God.

Here are 5 ways you can be a daughter of honour to your spiritual mother.

Purse God more.

The grace of spiritual covering that you have should inspire you to pursue God more than anything else. The effects of this will overflow into your relationship and make it blossom more.

Honour makes room

Sow honour - not just through your lips, but through your actions, and honour will make room for you.

Serve out of a revelation

And not because you have some information or you see everyone else doing it. Understand what is the end-motive that you are looking at.

Don't get familiar

Never get so familiar with your spiritual covering that you start devaluing it. Be led by the spirit and not your emotions. Don't allow offence or unforgiveness to take root.

Be grateful

Just the fact that you have a spiritual covering is reason enough to be thankful to God for! Don't try to change anyone, but embrace them the way they are.
